Book "cuboro 3" – Mental exercise with cuboro

cuboro Ltd. – a Swiss company – successfully asserts itself on the international toy market with its quality toys. The cuboro marble track system construed as a modular construction system with cube elements made from untreated beech wood inspires players to experiment and stimulates them to discover spatial, physical, mathematical and aesthetical aspects.

Constructing cugolino and cuboro marble track systems brings almost boundless pleasure and is an exciting challenge for children as well as for adults. A book with examples to rebuild models as well as a book with plans comprising championship systems is already available. Now, cuboro Ltd. launches the book "cuboro 3" with exciting mental exercises for the cuboro marble track system. In four thematic chapters with eight tasks per topic the inventor of the cuboro marble track system presents inspiring riddles. Hereto he holds: "cuboro is not only about cheerful marble-rolling. Mathematical and creative thinking is also required. The solutions can be complex or astonishingly simple." Everyone who preoccupies oneself with the new book and the cuboro marble track system will learn, be amazed and get a step closer to becoming a successful constructor of the cuboro marble track system. The book "cuboro 3" is available in specialized toy stores.
