cuboro catalogue

Constructing cugolino and cuboro marble track systems brings almost boundless pleasure and is an exciting challenge for children as well as for adults. The cuboro players start constructing with one of the three basic sets. The individual assortment can be expanded with various supplementary sets. Over the years more than twenty additional products have been developed by cuboro Ltd.

Interested persons obtain an appealing overview of the product range in the newly published cuboro catalogue – a clearly arranged brochure informing about the whole range of products. This 48-page long, colorful catalogue replaces the different separate information brochures of cuboro Ltd. and at the same time provides information in German, English, French, and Italian.
