cugolino pop - marble track and trampoline cuboro Ltd.'s marbles find new ways time and again. At the beginning of the year 2006 the manufacturer of the marble track system cuboro and cugolino launches the additional set "cugolino pop". The set contains 13 new beech wood elements that let the marbles bounce - from trampoline to trampoline, over obstacles, one time high, one time far. The trampoline elements as well as the additional funnel collector and construction elements supplement the cugolino and cuboro marble track system. "Through experimentation the cugolino and cuboro players discover astonishing runs and jump combinations. cugolino pop is the supplementary set that lets the hearts of young and older inventive minds beat faster", of this inventor and owner of cuboro Ltd. Matthias Etter is convinced.

The trampoline elements that have been developed specifically for marbles offer new experiences for the marble run. On top of the conventional rolling and falling of marbles, the movement of bouncing is added and therewith overcoming distances in the air. The push off from the special, rubber-equipped elements produces far, high, long or short flight tracks, all depending on height and acceleration of the falling marble. The additional box is available in specialized toy stores.
